

Mary Warner's husband, John, was involved in an auto accident August 6th, at 11:45 p.m., three miles west of Pueblo, while returning home from work at the State Hospital. He suffered injuries of the elbow and hand, and after surgery and a stay in the hospital, he is home and doing fine. His father, Claude J. Warner, also in the accident, is still in the hospital and improving.

Ed note:

This week Gail Lindsey and Lyn Griffin are doing most of the work on the Launch Pad, and a fine job at that. Norm
