The shipping gals who attended the Christmas party wish to take this opportunity to say "THANKS" to Vern and Gleda for the wonderful time, and the rest of us echo it.

Swingin Shipper Polly Van Meter says no one ever baked her a birthday cake before Tuesday when the gals on her shift presented her with this one and a lovely autographed cup and saucer.

Here is the picture of Floss with her mustang that we promised you last time.

WELCOME NEW EMPLOYEES!

Letha Ham is a new member of the day shipping crew. She is married and a former home-contractor from Penrose. Hobbies include horseback riding, sewing, art work, gardening and cooking.

The day mailroom welcomes Sharon Faye Green of Canon City. Her hobbies are embroidering, knitting, quilting and needlepoint.

Elizabeth Dodds is a new swing shift mailroom worker. She hails from Canon City and enjoys reading, camping, painting and sewing.

Betty Poor of Florence has dancing, reading and sewing for hobbies and works the graveyard shift in the mailroom.

Robert Redington is the Company's representative observing construction of the new building. He works closely with Vern and the contractor to insure a desirable building for us. He is a fisherman and "rock hound".

"LOST" AND

FOUND at the Christmas party: 1 man's hanky - gift.

(No, it doesn't have lipstick on it - won't someone please explain this?) - See Don

NEWS IN BRIEF . . .

Chuck McPherson talked to the 6th grade students at Harrison school in Canon City last week. The one hour lecture on model rocketry ended with a 15 minute demonstration.

Arlene Berg of the print shop crew was released from St. Joseph hospital last Sunday and is still on the mend at home. Her co-workers send best wishes.

Three gondolas of Armco steel were unloaded Tuesday, January 3, from a rail siding in Florence. The structural and external steel members were loaded on flat bed trucks for the 5 miles to Penrose. This steel will be the form and siding for the new building.

Bud Houston, machine shop, was the lucky winner of the door prize at the Estes Christmas party. Hope you are still enjoying that clock radio, Bud.

Ellen Persinger wishes to thank everyone for remembering her during her recent illness. She hopes to be back with us by March 1.

Have you ever wondered where the Estes employees are from? Here is the break-down of the latest survey:

Penrose	37
Florence	20
Canon City	52
Pueblo	3
Coal Creek	4
Rockvale	7
Wetmore	4
Parkdale	1
Texas Creek	1

(78% of these employees are women.)

LIVE HAPPILY EVERAFTER . . .

CONGRATULATIONS! -----

Judy Cox is now Mrs. Lawrence Swift. They were married New Year's Eve and are making their home in Coal Creek.
