

The illustrated cartoon on the front page of the Launch Pad is the unique request of Greg Jackson of Los Angeles, California, for a new Estes catalog.

We are popping the buttons off our vests with pride about the new catalog. As you look at your personal copy, we are certain you will agree that it couldn't be finer. Congratulations to each one who had a part in producing it.

EXPANSION AT THE WOODSHOP

During the past few months, the building which houses the woodshop has doubled in size. This has meant more elbow room for the woodshop crew. It also makes space available for new machines designed to increase production in the woodshop. Congratulations, Delbert and gang.

It appears that the recent C. W. A. Union attempt has been defeated. A big thanks to all of you for doing this.

Vern

According to the crew of the shipping department, Mary Lee Fontecchio nearly came apart at the seams when she received word at work that she had a new grandson. The boy is doing fine, and there seems to be some hope for the grandmother.

Sue Shore's brother, Eddie, is home on leave from the service.
