Hi, guys!

I've heard some good news about Neva Buchanan of Engine Production. Although she will be in St. Thomas More hospital for awhile longer, Neva is recovering from surgery with very good progress.

ARTHUR VASH, HEAD OF DAMON'S EDUCATIONAL DIVISION EXPLAINS AND DEMONSTRATES SOME OF THE DAMON SCIENTIFIC DEVICES AT THE NOVEMBER DEPARTMENT HEAD MEETING.

MOVES

Due to rapid expansion and the need for increased productivity, several department changes and moves have been made. These changes will provide the departments involved with added efficiency in performing their duties. The following is a list of the alterations made:

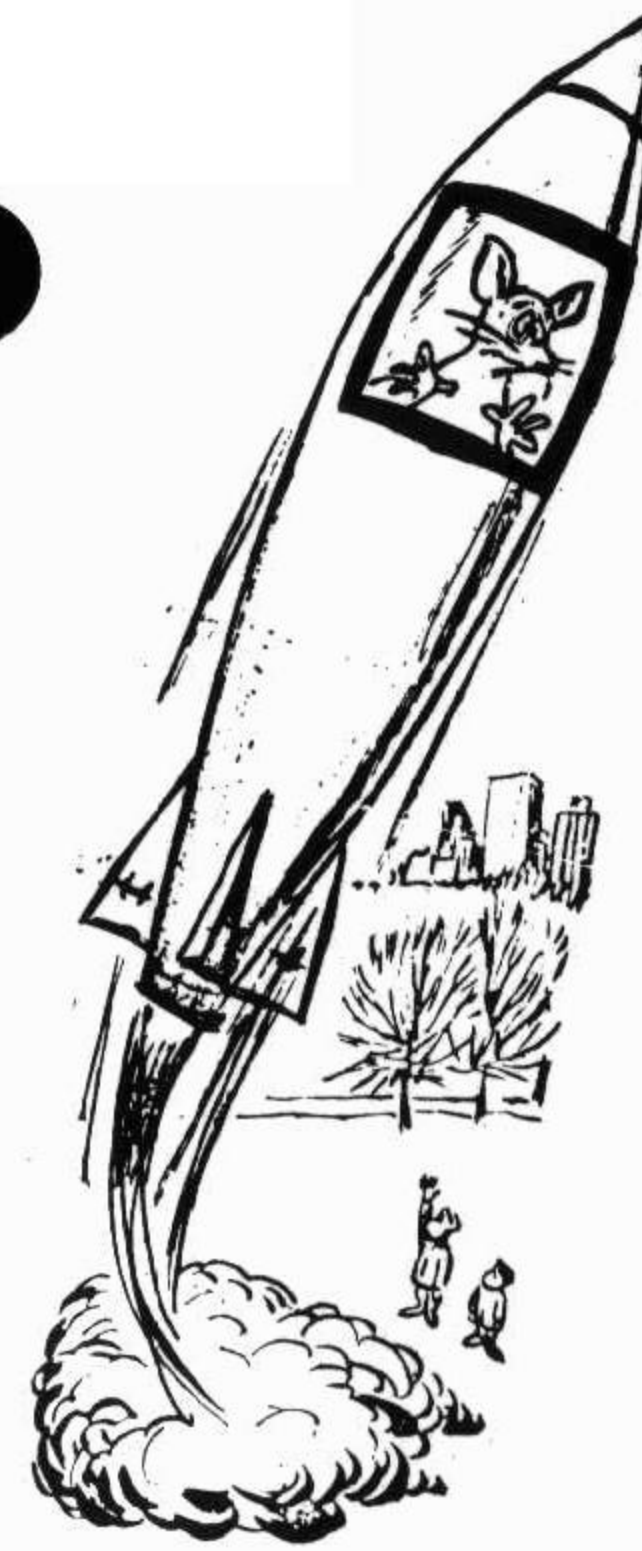

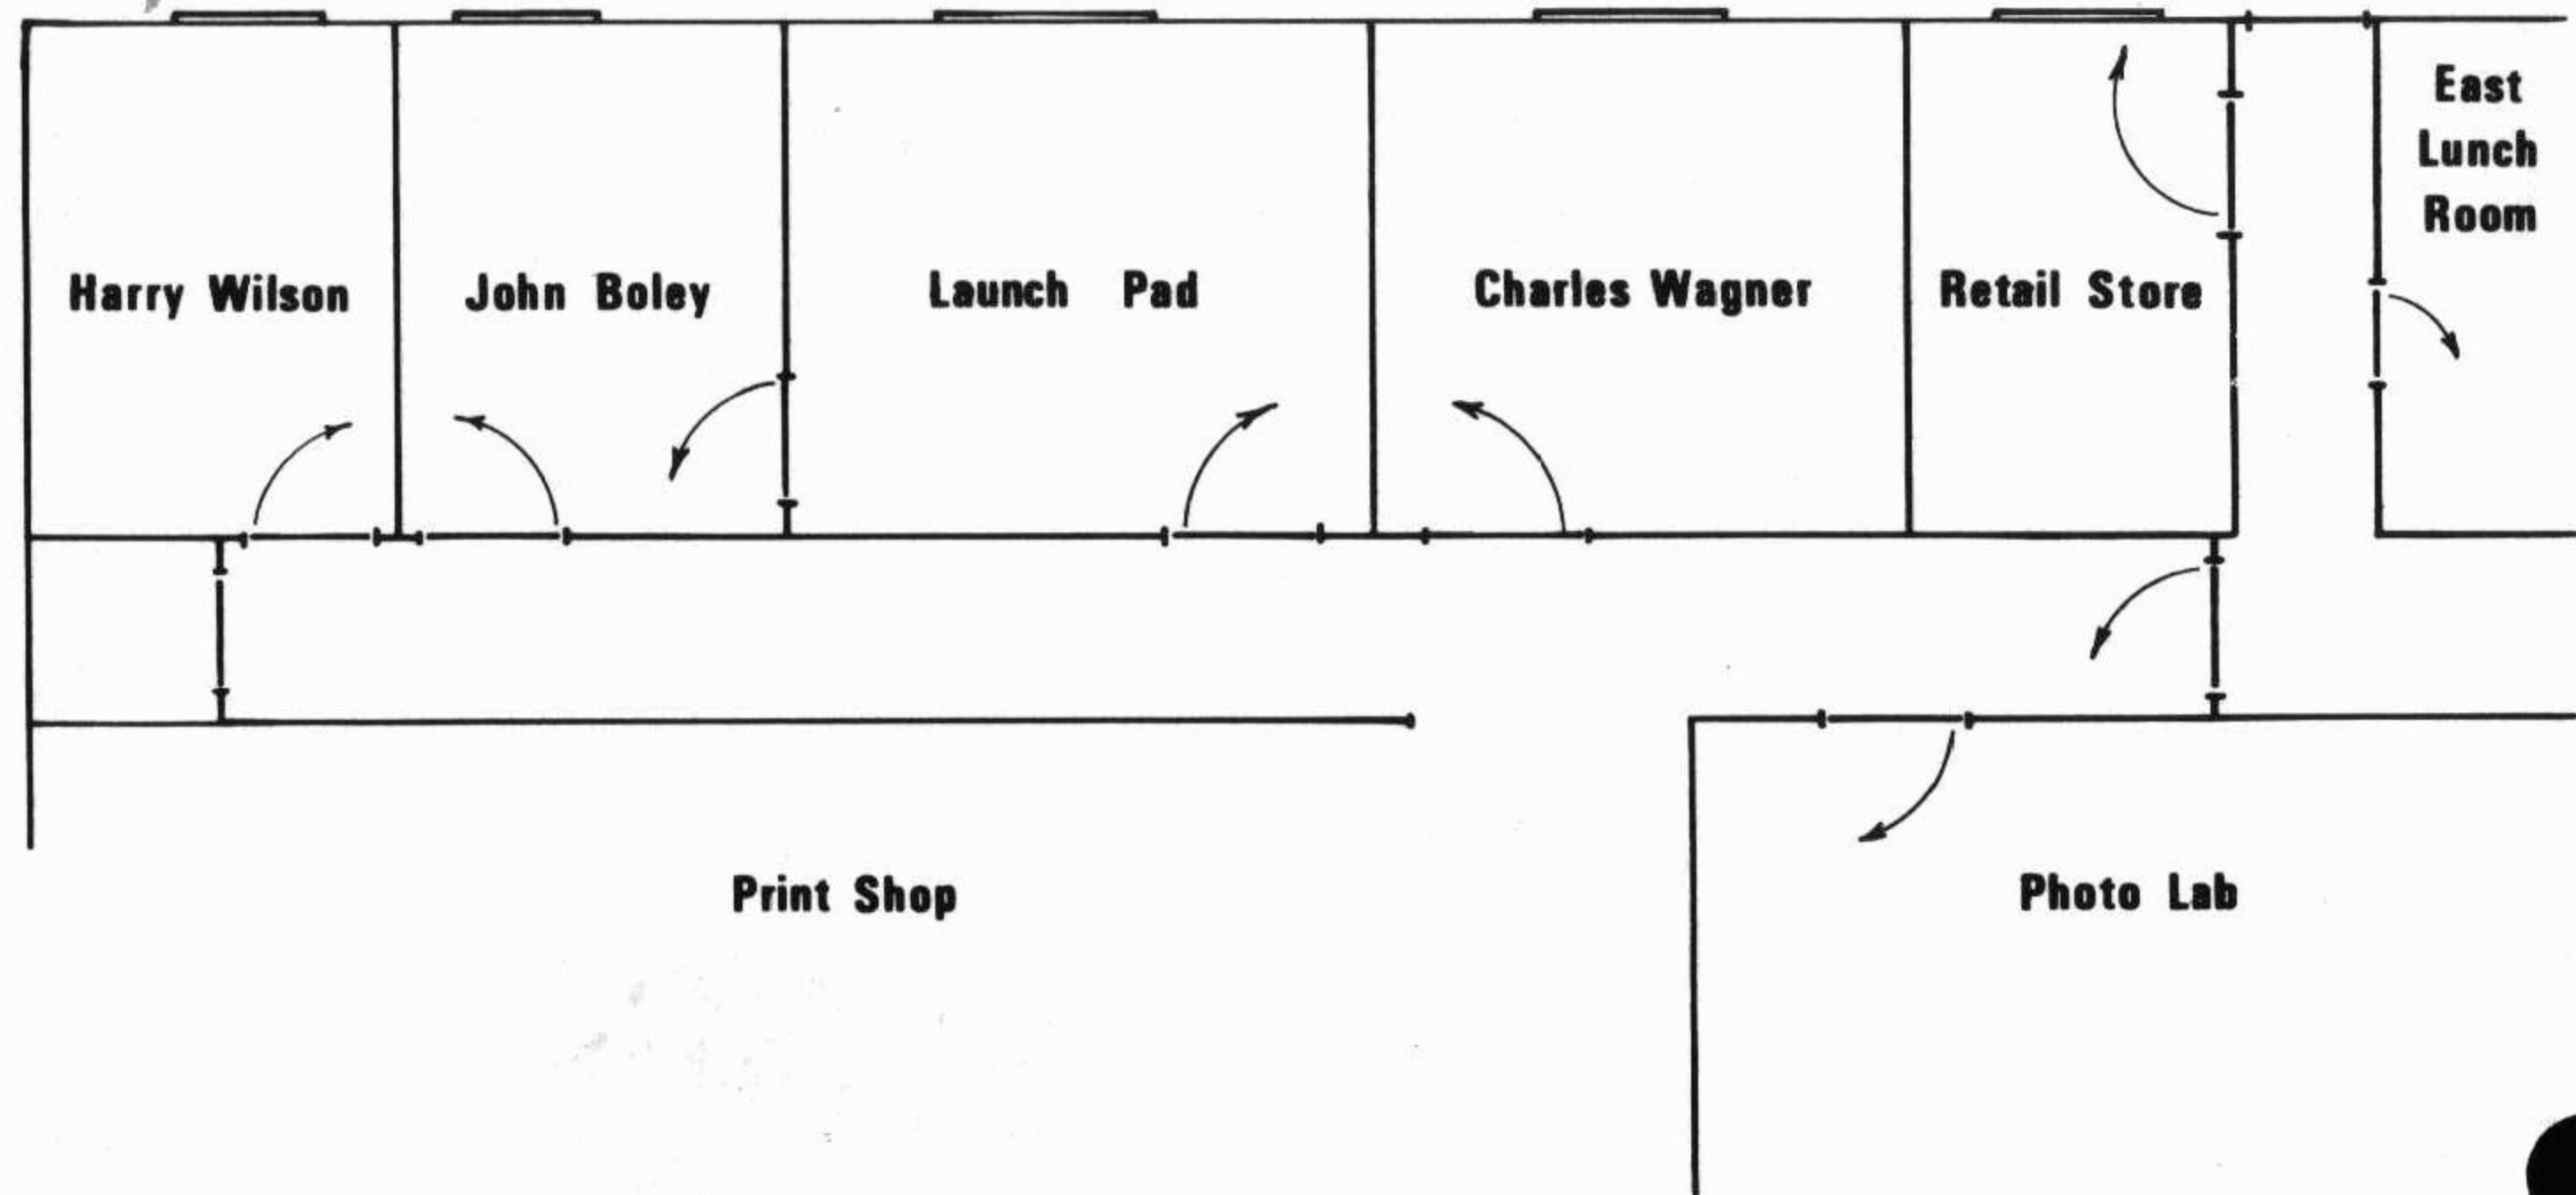

BUILDINGS & GROUNDS MANAGER is a new position assumed by J. B. Nickels. J. B. will be in charge of all building repair, remodeling, grounds maintenance, custodial services. He will also represent the company in overseeing new construction projects. His office will be located in the main warehouse office. Please contact Mr. Nickels (Ext. 33) for any of your needs in these areas.

KIT - PACKING: Don Heberly, Production Manager, recently assumed responsibilities for this department as part of the production division, which will now include the woodshop and kit-packing. His office is located in the kit-packing building. Mary Lee Fontecchio will remain Kit-Packing Department Head.

DEALER SALES will become known as the DEALER ORDER DEPARTMENT. Gleda Estes is now in charge of this department with June Harris as the department head. The general responsibilities of this area will be the processing and handling of dealer orders.

DEALER SALES MANAGER is a new position filled by Bob McGill. General responsibilities will be communication with our dealers and continued expansion and development of our dealer sales program. Bob's office is located in the Dealer Order Department. His phone extension is 52.

"Step - Down" Fatal To Space Mouse

Shirley's 9th grade science room. He was last seen in the hands of a junior high scientist, shivering from fright after his ride in his balsawood rocket.

Mrs. Shirley said a series of rocket launches made last week had attracted so much student interest that a repeat performance was scheduled Friday. All of the students appeared to enjoy it. The surviving mouse refused to comment.

Mrs. Shirley appeared unconcerned about the mouse's uncooperative attitude, however. "After a couple of days, they're fine," she said, "ready for another launch."

The mouse again refused to comment.

He may have been thinking of what lies ahead, one observer thought.

Mrs. Shirley's class plans to use its mice in experiments to determine what effects dietetic candy has on the reproductive cycle.

A furry brown mouse gave his life for the conquest of space Friday at Cochrane Junior High School. After surviving a 500 foot suborbital rocket flight, the spacemouse was squashed ignominiously underfoot by an over-enthusiastic member of the rocketeer recovery team. He was buried in an unmarked grave soon after his death, the teen-agers' space program's first disaster. But a fellow astronaut—a white mouse, proving Cochrane's space travel is integrated—lived through a similar rocket launch 500 feet into the sky.

The survivor of Cochrane's second series of manned (moused?) space shots was carried back like a hero to his cage in Mrs. Gail

We wish to express our deepest thanks and our appreciation to all who helped so very much during our recent bereavement over the loss of our son Sp/4 Wm. Steve Shade.

Sincerely,
The Shade Family

Originally from Nebraska, Rose Gilbertson has resided in Pueblo for the past nine months. Rose and her husband, J. D., have two boys and two girls. Her favorite hobbies are reading, fishing, swimming and bowling.

NOTICE

A problem has developed concerning the parking lot immediately behind the Print Shop. This space has been designated for persons working in that immediate area. It would be appreciated if employees stationed in other sections of the main building use one of the front parking areas.

Our apologies to Sylvia Gasser who wrote the poem on "FOOTBALL" in the last issue. It was for her son.

MARKETING MANAGER is a modified position held by John Boley. His responsibilities will include company-wide market analysis, and the following dealer services of merchandising, promotions and advertising. John's new office is the third office across from the Print Shop; his phone extension remains 54.

VISUAL GRAPHICS MANAGER is Charles Wagner. He is the overall manager of the Print Shop and Photo Lab. His office is the first room across from the Print Shop and can be reached at extension 60. Jean Curnutte remains as the Print Shop Department Head.

LAUNCH PAD OFFICE has been moved to the second room across from the Print Shop. Marge Hainer can now be reached at extension 71. SHEILA RODARMEL, John Boley's secretary, will also be located in this room.

PASTE - UP & ILLUSTRATOR, Harry Wilson has moved to a new office. He will be located in the last room across from the Print Shop and can be called at extension 59.

PERSONNEL DIRECTOR, Chuck Helsel's new office will be located across from the mailroom, where the Launch Pad office was previously.

MODEL CONSTRUCTION has been moved into the "Birdhouse" behind the Shipping department and Warehouse.

PROMOTIONS

We have four new promotions to celebrate this pay period. Congratulations go out to Marvin Peffers, Paddy Dawkins, Lyn Griffin and Eddie Ossola.

Marvin Peffers has been promoted to the position of supervisor of the swing shift in Engine Manufacturing. He has been with Estes since last April and is presently residing in Canon City.

Another resident of Canon City is Paddy Dawkins, she has been with the company since June of 1968. Paddy was recently promoted in the Education department from assistant supervisor to the position of supervisor of the day crew.

Lyn Griffin of Canon City has also received a promotion in the Education department. She is the new assistant supervisor of the day shift. Lyn has worked at Estes since April of 1966.

A resident of Florence, Eddie Ossola is the new assistant supervisor of the Model Construction crew. He has been with Estes since September of 1968 and works on the day shift.

The Model Construction team has been increased by two new members on the day crew. They are Gary Iovinella and Phillip Smith.

Gary Iovinella is a life long resident of Pueblo. He is presently living with his sister and parents. A '69 graduate of East High School, Gary enjoys working on cars, playing the saxophone and building model rockets.

Having a mechanical nature, Phillip Smith spends his spare moments working on cars and electrical appliances. Originally from Pueblo, Phillip and his wife, Iris, are presently residing in Penrose. They are the parents of a 14 month-old daughter.

Using their skill in the Print Shop on the swing shift are Nancy Robbe and Gayl Higgins.

Originally from Missouri, Nancy Robbe and her husband, William, have lived in Canon City for the past three years. William is presently employed at the State Penitentiary. Nancy spends her spare moments fishing, hunting, and camping.
